

M: Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes

General Objectives:

The student will become familiar with the narrative elements of the short story and the novel. The student will use these

Textbooks and Materials to be Purchased by Students

The texts could include any of the following:

A text that includes representative selections from traditional and modern fiction, and/or, a text such as Three Genres.

(for the anthology.)

A short contemporary novel.

Assignments submitted for class discussion; these may include a dialogue, a character study, or possibly a short story.

and an assigned short story or novel. Students are evaluated on the basis of their participation in class.

Final evaluations will include class participation and a final exam. Final evaluations will include class participation and a final exam.