

Division: Instructional Date: May 10, 1985
Department: Arts & Humanities

Revision of Course: X

Dated: May 1988

Summary of Revision:

Calendar Description:

(Enter date & section)

It probes some aspects of early Canadian history long studied by America, the Conquest, and the Rebellions of 1837-38. It also introduces students to topics which have only recently attracted attention.

chosen by Students (Form)

N. Textbooks and Materials to be Purchased (Use Bibliographic Form)

following list:

Texts will be chosen from the sources (reading history). These paragraphs and extended primary sources.

1. The critical examination of historical ation and communication of personal interpretations of historical forms for communication of research. search note cards, library research exercises, and two-hour final II

2. The cr

3. The independent analysis of the class of other students or instructor in class in both tutorials and seminars (discussing history).

CONTENT

2 COURSE

24. Literary Reflections

25. - Mixed Bloods and Whites in Red River

26. - Colony of British Columbia

27. - Road to Confederation

28. - Review and Revision

29. - Final Examination